The Challenges

Before implementing One to One Plus, Beekmantown Central School District encountered several challenges in managing their technology resources. These included difficulties in tracking which students had which devices, managing a high volume of help desk tickets with limited staff, and a lack of integration between disparate systems for device issuance, help desk support, and other functions.

Seamless Integration

One to One Plus provided the district with instant access to linked history data, connecting devices, students, staff, help tickets, and invoices. This comprehensive historical view enabled streamlined tracking and management of technology resources.

Improved Asset Management

With One to One Plus, Beekmantown Central School District now has a centralized platform to track all technology devices from their original purchase through disposal. This end-to-end visibility ensures better asset management and accountability throughout the device lifecycle.

Enhanced Support

The exceptional support team at One to One Plus has consistently garnered praise for their unparalleled dedication to providing assistance. Renowned for their unwavering helpfulness, depth of knowledge, and prompt response times, they serve as the district's reliable lifeline whenever challenges arise. Their adeptness in swiftly resolving issues and addressing inquiries not only ensures seamless operations but also builds a sense of confidence and trust among users. Their commitment to excellence shines through in every interaction, embodying the ethos of reliability and support that defines the One to One Plus experience.

Implementation Process

The implementation of One to One Plus at Beekmantown Central School District was described by staff as streamlined and painless. The integration process was smooth, with student data and assets seamlessly imported into the system. Additionally, the staff mentioned being able to work with project managers with K-12 experience as very helpful. Since they have been in the shoes of the client, they bring a wealth of knowledge related to both the software and K-12 best practices.

Why One to One Plus was Chosen

Beekmantown Central School District chose One to One Plus for its ease of use, reliability, flexibility of tools, and the extensive experience of the One to One Plus team.
